ANNUAL MEETING

NOVEMBER 19, 1941

Four hundred and fifty members attended the Annual Meeting of The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society which was held on November 19, at 3:00 P. M., in the Insurance Company of North America Building, 1600 Arch Street, Philadelphia. The President, Mr. C. Frederick C. Stout, was in the Chair, and presented his annual report.

Mr. William J. Serrill, Vice-President, announced election of the following candidates for the Executive Council: For the term expiring at the end of 1944: Mrs. John B. Carson, Mrs. J. Norman Henry, Mrs. Alan H. Reed, Mrs. Walter K. Sharpe, Mrs. Irving Warner, Mr. W. Atlee Burpee, Jr., Mr. Harold Graham, Mr. W. Hinckle Smith and Mr. John C. Wister. For the term expiring at the end of 1943, Mr. Alfred M. Campbell; for the term expiring at the end of 1942, Mr. Benjamin Rush, Jr.

The Schaffer Gold Medal of the Society, which had not been awarded for ten years, was presented to Mrs. J. Norman Henry for her notable contributions to horticulture.

Mr. W. Atlee Burpee, Chairman of the Membership Committee, presented prizes of standard gardening books to thirteen members of the Society who had assisted the Committee during the year. The grand prize for membership work was awarded to Mrs. G. Wadsworth Cresse, of Woodbury, New Jersey. This was a framed engraving of the head of Abraham Lincoln, with a letter signed by Lincoln, himself. Mr. Burpee contributed this prize from his personal collection of Lincoln material.

Dr. J. Horace McFarland, Chairman, presented a report for the Extension Committee which was well received.

The feature of the afternoon was an interesting illustrated lecture, "The Year Reviewed with a Color Camera," by Miss Anne B. Wertsner, Field Secretary of the Society.

An exhibit of paintings of Tree Peonies lent by Mr. John C. Wister, Miss Natalie H. Davis, Artist, was on display at the meeting.

The hostesses were headed by Mrs. John B. Carson. Tea was served at the conclusion of the meeting.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

AS SUBMITTED AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

NOVEMBER 19, 1941

It is a great pleasure to recognize many of the old friends of the Society present today and equally gratifying to see so many of the newer members who have come to their first Annual Meeting. I extend a hearty welcome to both old and new and express the fond hope that the new members will make these Annual Meetings a habit. It is only through the continued interest and support of the members that the Society can make a satisfactory growth.

The absence of our Secretary, Mr. John C. Wister, is today, as always, regrettable but he had engaged his time to lecture this afternoon with The Horticultural Society of New York before the date of this meeting was set. Their program had been published and it was quite impossible for him to cancel the engagement. In the absence of Mr. Wister, I have asked Mr. William J. Serrill, one of our Vice-Presidents, who is also Chairman of the Nominating Committee for membership in the Council, to participate with me this afternoon and render to you the account of that election. I will ask him to explain to you the By-Law which provides the formula for such elections.

As the securing of new members is an important part of our program, I have asked Dr. J. Horace McFarland, a member of our Council and Chairman of our Extension Committee, to participate in this afternoon's exercises, and also Mr. W. Atlee Burpee, Jr., Vice-Chairman of the same Committee, who, in turn, will make the awards to those of us who have been successful in securing more than five new members.

Our financial report will be published, as usual, in the Year Book but, as finances are a vital part of the life of any organization, I wish to say a few words to you on this subject. First of all, I wish to thank you for the generous response which you gave to my suggestion at the last Annual Meeting that additional funds for special needs would be most welcome. I explained, at that time, we did not wish to consider increasing our dues but that additional income would supply some important needs. Contributions amounting to approximately $1,600.00 were received. They made it possible for us to publish the new up-to-date catalogue of the Library, to present last June's Flower Show, and to purchase a very fine projector which we shall use for Miss Wertsner's Lecture this afternoon. Any additional contributions from those of us who feel able to respond this year will be most thankfully received and will be put to good use.

The budget for the year just closed was balanced and we start off another season in good financial condition. The books of the Society were audited by Messrs. Herr and Herr, Certified Public Accountants, at the end of our fiscal year, September 30th, 1941.

It is with a sense of deep regret I announce the death of our Treasurer, Samuel S. Pennock, who died April 12th, 1941. Mr. Pennock was a devoted member of the Society for forty-five years and had performed his duties as Treasurer faithfully since 1924. His death is a great loss to the Society, and those of us who were closely associated with him on the Executive Council will keenly miss his ever genial personality.

We have been particularly fortunate in securing Mr. Benjamin Rush, Jr., as Mr. Pennock's successor. Many of you know Mr. Rush as he is from one of Philadelphia's old families. He is prominent not only as an officer of the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America but, through his interest in civic affairs, he is Chairman of the 1941 Roll Call of the Southeastern Chapter of the American Red Cross. We can feel assured of the highest standard of service in this department of the Society.

Before calling on Dr. McFarland and Mr. Burpee, I wish to say a word about membership which lies close to my heart, close, because I feel that this particular department of the Society plays an important part in its perpetuation. The report of the status of our membership, in the face of present uncertain conditions, is gratifying. The actual figures at the first of November, 1940, were 3,897. Today they are 4,130, a net increase of 233 for the year. This handsome gain represents only a part of the work of securing new members by the Committee for, in order to offset our losses by death, resignation, and non-payment of dues, we had to secure 571 new members. Let us keep our goal of 5,000 members in mind throughout the coming year.

After Dr. McFarland speaks to you further about this work and Mr. Burpee makes the awards for the splendid work accomplished, it will be my pleasure to make another award we wish to bestow this afternoon. This is the Schaffer Memorial Medal which is given from time to time for outstanding work in the interest of horticulture.

* * * * *

I am happy to tell you that the Executive Council has voted unanimously to give this medal to Mrs. J. Norman Henry and I consider it an honor to present the medal to her and read the citation which accompanies the award.

"The Schaffer Memorial Medal of The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society is awarded to Mrs. J. Norman Henry, of Gladwyne, Pennsylvania, for her notable contributions to horticulture. Traveling to the wilds of Northern British Columbia and again to the botanically little known portions of our southeastern states, her keen eye has detected many species and varieties of horticultural value. These have been transplanted to, or propagated in, her garden at Gladwyne and her skill in their culture has made possible the demonstration that many highly attractive native plants can be grown far from their native haunts. Outstanding among her finds are new varieties, color-forms or hybrids of Azaleas, Gentians, Lilies, and many other genera, a Silver-bell with pink, and a Witchhazel with fragrant bronze flowers, a magnolia so dwarf as to be suited to rock gardens, and numerous others. As a result of her untiring efforts, horticulturists are now, more than ever, aware of the tremendous potentialities of the native American flora for supplying plants worthy of cultivation."

Today we turn a new leaf in the history of our Society. Last year I referred to the stirring and uncertain days that lay ahead and pointed out that we should be mentally prepared and alert to face all of the uncertainties that time would reveal.

As we approach our new year and the nation becomes more deeply entangled in the endless meshes of world conditions, we will, unquestionably, be called upon to give more and more attention to budgeting. I wish that, when we do our budgeting, we would not do it from a financial standpoint alone but that we would also budget our time. Evidently, there are many things we spend time doing that could be dropped with less loss to ourselves than our interest in horticulture. Horticulture is part of Mother Nature herself in which alone lies eternal truth, our most faithful friend. It is eternal truth that is being brought home to the world in the present conflict and it alone will carry on. So, let us feel our membership in this Society is not a casual thing but that we are investing our time in a way that will give us the greatest understanding and satisfaction in return.

It seems fitting, at this time, to announce the death, on November 3, of one of our outstanding Honorary Members, Sir Arthur William Hill, Director, Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, London. His death was the result of a riding accident. His passing will, unquestionably, be a great loss to the botanical world.

It is indeed heartening to all horticulturists in America to know that at the Botanic Gardens in London, in Edinburgh, and in Dublin, as well as at the Royal Horticultural Society itself, interest in Mother Nature is being kept alive and virile and so forms a spiritual stimulus for the fortitude of the British people who have stood up so magnificently during these darkened days of the last two years as destruction of life and property has rained from the skies.

The last item on our Agenda this afternoon is concerned with the activities of the Society during the past year. I know you will agree with me that it will be presented in a much more interesting form than the customary verbal or written report. I do not have to introduce to you our capable Field Secretary, Miss Anne Wertsner, who will "Review the Year with a Color Camera."

Mrs. Carson is Chairman of the Entertainment Committee and Tea will be served at the end of the Lecture.

I wish to express to all those of the Council and to all the members of our Executive force my most hearty thanks for the magnificent cooperation and support that they have given to me.

C. FREDERICK C. STOUT,
President.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY FOR 1941

Our first activities in 1941 were the regular series of three lectures, and a course of practical gardening lectures by Miss Wertsner, Field Secretary, which had started in October, 1940.

On January 22 and 23, 1941, the Society again co-operated with the Garden Club Federation of Pennsylvania in offering a course of special lectures for flower show exhibitors. A sum of $800.00 over expenses was realized, and the Society used its share of $400.00 to help finance its participation in the Philadelphia Flower Show, March 24-29, 1941. Each year the Society's classes grow in number and the details of staging become more elaborate and complicated. Mrs. J. Gibson McIlvain and her assistant, Mrs. G. Ruhland Rebmann, Jr., who headed the committee in 1941, have consented to take charge of the work again in 1942.

Mrs. J. Norman Henry was chairman of the annual Flower Show Luncheon, held on March 25, 1941. Mr. B. Y. Morrison, of the United States Department of Agriculture, in Washington, was the special guest speaker.

On three Saturday afternoons in May, a total of fifteen visits was made by members of the Society to gardens in Chestnut Hill, Ardmore, and in the vicinity of Wilmington. On account of the increasing number of visitors and the attendant difficulties of parking, a new plan was tried of charging for non-member guests. Members were admitted free as formerly, but a fee of $1.00 was charged for guests of members on each afternoon. The proceeds, $530.00, were given to the American Red Cross.

On May 19, Miss Wertsner gave a one day course on Flower Arrangement and Judging, part of which was devoted to an exhibit of arrangements made by novices for whom the course was designed.

On June 5 and 6, the Society staged an unusually fine Flower Show in Germantown through the hospitality and co-operation of the Woman's Club of Germantown.

During the summer, the Library and Reading Room attracted about the same number of users as is customary. Books were mailed to many members who were away from home. Miss Wertsner, who has taken Mr. Rust's place as consultant, was asked intermittently for gardening advice, but the peak of that work, of course, occurs in the spring.

In late September, the committee in charge of the Society's section of the Philadelphia Flower Show, began its regular weekly meetings on Friday mornings. These meetings continued until the schedule was planned and ready to go to the printer. Similar work is done in advance for all of the Society's activities. Many hours of conscientious work are spent around the large table in our Council Room.

In October, the Committee on Garden Awards submitted its report to the Executive Council, and the Council voted the awards which were recommended. A list of them was published in the November first issue of "Horticulture," and it is printed, also, in the current Year Book.

The Chrysanthemum Show was staged in the Field House of Swarthmore College on November 7, 8, and 9, 1941. The attendance of approximately 6,000 persons was double that of last year. The Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation and the Philadelphia Branch of the National Association of Gardeners were co-sponsors with the Society.

The Annual Meeting of the Society on November 19, 1941, was another record-breaker in attendance. Four hundred and fifty members were present. An account of the meeting is given in the President's Report.

A demonstrated talk on Christmas Decorations, presented by Miss Wertsner on December 16, ended our activities for 1941. Last year, this very popular lecture was included in Miss Wertsner's Horticultural Course, but this year it was a separate lecture open to all, and a fee was charged to help cover the expenses.

A few of our office records for the year from December 1, 1940, to November 30, 1941, are as follows: We have had 2,392 visitors to the rooms, 1,184 of whom came particularly to the Library. Seventy-three meetings were held in our quarters, 32 by our own committees and Executive Council and 41 by other groups with allied interests.

REPORT OF LIBRARY COMMITTEE FOR 1941

How fast the year has flown!

Thanksgiving came and went. Christmas the climax, the greatest day in the year, is over. New Year's Day is past. With that day the first whisper of a new spring is in the air, although we are still in the depths of winter.

The longer the winter season, the darker the days, the colder the weather — the greater is the opportunity which we gardeners have to study and the more time we have to plan and dream. But in busy times we must learn to plan and dream in such a way that our plans and dreams will bring the greatest returns.

Let us read and study the most worthwhile gardening books and magazines. We must all grow and help others to grow the fruits and vegetables our countrymen need so sorely.

Let us also grow many beautiful flowers that our souls, too, may find some comfort in these stern and stirring times.

The Library records show that 197 books were added, making a total of approximately 5200 volumes; there were 1172 visitors to the Library; and 1023 books were circulated among the members.

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to the following donors of books: Mrs. Charles S. Bergner, Mr. Charles J. Biddle, Mrs. Edward W. Bok, Mr. Hugh Findlay, Miss Sarah D. Lowrie, Mrs. William R. Mercer, Mrs. Arthur Hoyt Scott, Mr. C. Frederick C. Stout, and Miss Anne B. Wertsner.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary G. Henry, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE LECTURE COMMITTEE FOR 1941

Two series of lectures comprised the program for the past year. The first was the regular Winter series of free lectures on Tuesday afternoons, as follows:

REGULAR SERIES — ILLUSTRATED LECTURES

Auditorium, 1600 Arch Street, Philadelphia, 3:00 P. M.

January 13—"Floral Adventures in the Pine Barrens of Southern New Jersey," John Gill

January 27—"Botanical Gardens, Arboretums, and other famous Plant Collections near Philadelphia," John C. Wister

February 10—"Gardens to Live With," Dr. Hugh Findlay

The attendance at the lectures was considerably higher than during former years, and at Dr. Findlay's talk, the number present, 607, surpassed all previous records. The lectures were widely varied in subject matter and each one was presented in an interesting manner.

The second series was entitled a "Short Course in Horticulture," and was given by Miss Anne B. Wertsner, Field Secretary. The course began in the autumn of 1940 and extended over an eight-month period. There were 213 registrations and the average attendance was good. The course was free to members. Many expressions of appreciation have been received, and a similar course is being presented this Winter by Miss Wertsner. A registration fee of $1.00, plus tax, is charged for the current course. The 1940-1941 series included the following program, which was given on Monday mornings:

SHORT COURSE IN HORTICULTURE — By Miss Anne B. Wertsner

October	14—"Soils and Fertilizers"
November	4—"Bulbs for Spring Bloom"
December	2—"Christmas Decorations"

GARDEN VISITS, 1941

Garden Visits were made to fifteen private gardens in 1941, with an average attendance at each garden of 436. In the preceding year, the average attendance had mounted to 536 and in order to reduce this number, on account of difficulties in parking and to prevent possible damage to lawns from such a large number of visitors, an admission fee of $1.00 was charged to guests of members in 1941. The proceeds, amounting to $530.00, were given to the American Red Cross. Members were admitted free, as usual.

The program of visits in 1941 was as follows:

May 3—Chestnut Hill

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Randolph, Seminole and West Chestnut Avenues.
Mr. Joseph B. Van Sciver, Lynbrook Road.
Mrs. F. Corlies Morgan, 8625 Montgomery Avenue.
Mrs. Randal Morgan, 398 East Willow Grove Avenue.
Mrs. Isaac T. Starr, East Willow Grove Avenue.

May 17—Ardmore

Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick C. Stout, 214 Glenn Road.
*Mr. and Mrs. Stacy B. Lloyd, "Mill Creek House."
Mr. and Mrs. C. Townsend Ludington, "Court House."
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Pew, Dodd's Lane.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Sears, Williamson Avenue and Youngsford Road.

*Mr. Lloyd—deceased.

May 24—Vicinity of Wilmington, Delaware

Mr. Harry G. Haskell, "Hill Girt Farms," Chadd's Ford, Pennsylvania.
Mr. and Mrs. R. R. M. Carpenter, "Dilwyne," Montchanin, Delaware.
Mrs. Chichester duPont, "Elton," Wilmington, Delaware.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Rodney Sharp, "Gibraltar," Wilmington, Delaware.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheelwright, "Goodstay," Wilmington, Delaware.

The Society expresses its grateful appreciation to the members listed above who generously opened their gardens to us in 1941.

In addition to the list of private gardens, members were invited to visit the following places of interest which were open to the public last Spring: Longwood Gardens, Valley Forge Dogwood Celebration, Azalea Gardens at Friends Hospital, Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation, Rock Garden of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haughton, the Glendinning Memorial Rock Garden, and the Garden Day of Private Gardens in Central Philadelphia.

JOHN C. WISTER, Chairman.

REPORT OF EXHIBITION COMMITTEE FOR 1941

The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society sponsored two Flower Shows in 1941, with the assistance of co-operating organizations; and the Society also actively participated in the Philadelphia Flower Show, March 24-29, 1941.

As usual, the Society took charge of the special garden and arrangement classes in the March Show. A large committee of women, headed by Mrs. J. Gibson McIlvain and her sub-chairman Mrs. G. Ruhland Rebmann, Jr., planned an interesting schedule of classes and in addition to making all the advance arrangements, representatives were on constant duty at the Show — helping the exhibitors and judges and answering questions put to them by the public.

The Society's exhibits were in the usual location. Many of the small gardens combined flower borders and vegetables in a pleasing and practical manner. Sculpture played an effective part in some sections of gardens, due to the offer of a special prize by the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts to the garden which used sculpture to the best advantage. "The Gardeners" (Garden Club) won the award. The Garden Club Federation of Pennsylvania staged three special classes in the Society's section. The Show as a whole was outstanding and there was an excellent attendance throughout the week. The Flower Show management provided a free ticket for each of our members as in former years.

The June Flower Show was held in Germantown (June 5 and 6) and the Society had the co-operation of the Four Counties Garden Club, The Gardeners, the Garden Club of Philadelphia, The Planters, The Weeders and the West Chester Garden Club. The Show was staged in the Club House of the Germantown Woman's Club, through the kind invitation of the Club. A fine collection of outdoor Spring flowers was shown and Roses and Delphiniums were particularly good. Flower Arrangement classes also were noteworthy. An attendance of 527 was recorded.

The Chrysanthemum Show took place in the Field House of Swarthmore College, on November 7, 8, and 9, with the co-operation of the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation and the Philadelphia Branch of the National Association of Gardeners. Due to the open Fall and no killing frosts, there was a splendid display of outdoor-grown Chrysanthemums as well as the indoor types. The attendance of approximately 6,000 persons was double that of last year.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD GRAHAM,

Chairman.

REPORT OF THE EXTENSION COMMITTEE FOR 1941

The title of this Committee, Extension, is thoroughly justified by the work it has accomplished in the year just closed through the increasingly successful efforts of Miss Wertsner, its Extension Secretary, admirably sustained and advanced by Miss Root and the office force.

Statistics make a very sour diet, but it is only fair to call attention to the fact that in the five years since this work began in 1937 to October first of this year, Miss Wertsner's work has involved the giving of 247 addresses, mostly illustrated, returning an income to the Society of $2,677.50, although 70 addresses were made without charge and some 20 lectures in three courses have been before the Society itself.

All of this has counted in making known The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society far beyond its immediate environment. While 211 members have been directly secured in the effort, that accomplishment, desirable as it is, has little relation to the way in which gardens have been bettered, trees planted, and horticulture advanced throughout the state.

The Committee is proud that Miss Wertsner has supplemented her extension work, during which in the fiscal year just ended she has traveled more than 18,000 miles and talked to over 11,000 people. In the office and by telephone she cared for more than 500 inquiries adding 108 letters to the sum of this helpful discussion.

Again straining your indulgence of figures, it is only fair to say that during the year just ended Miss Wertsner took, in visits to 101 gardens, approximately 2,000 photographs in color, offering a potentiality for extension work which needs only to be turned loose by the necessary financial support to make all Pennsylvania blossom as the rose.

The founders of this ancient and honorable Society took for it an inclusive name. The Extension work that has been very briefly hinted at above has paid no attention to state boundaries, and constantly to communities in Delaware and New Jersey, in New York and Ohio, in Virginia and West Virginia, and even in far away Oklahoma and Texas, the Keystone State has presented horticultural advance through Miss Wertsner.

On occasion we have gladly supplemented national defense efforts, and quite naturally the local shows for which the Society is responsible have been made matters of major attention.

Your Committee feels that the work thus reported has been well done and worth while. If it was possible to provide an additional supporting appropriation much more could be done in the direction of the accomplishments above briefly detailed.

J. HORACE McFARLAND,

Chairman.

They shall hold office for one year from appointment and until their successors are appointed. All vacancies in such Committees shall be filled by the President and Executive Council, or during its recess by the Executive Committee. Each Committee shall have power to fix its own quorum.

3. The Executive Committee shall consist of not more than five members. It shall be its duty, subject to the control of the Executive Council, to order purchases, to receive complaints, to redress grievances, to appoint and dismiss employees, to manage the Society's Rooms and to perform such other similar duties as may from time to time be assigned to it by the Executive Council. During the recess of the Executive Council the Executive Committee shall be vested with all the powers of the Executive Council so far as the same can be legally delegated, but it shall be its duty to exercise such powers only whenever immediate action is required.

4. The Finance Committee shall consist of three or more members, of which the Treasurer shall be one. It shall be its duty, subject to the control of the Executive Council, to supervise the finances and make the investments of the Society. Only the income from these funds shall be used by the Society for operating expenses. It shall be its duty, acting on recommendations of the appropriate Standing Committees, to regulate the salaries and wages of employees. It shall be its duty annually to make a budget setting forth the estimated receipts and expenses of the Society for the ensuing fiscal year, and to present such budget to the Executive Council for consideration. It shall be its duty to engage a Certified Public Accountant or Accountants annually to audit the Society's accounts. It shall report to the Executive Council the accounts audited and allowed since its previous report, and perform such other similar duties as may from time to time be assigned to it by the Executive Council.

5. The Library Committee shall consist of five or more members. It shall be its duty, subject to the control of the Executive Council, to regulate use of the Library, the Reading Room, and of all the books, periodicals, newspapers, etc., to purchase books and periodicals, and to perform such other similar duties as may from time to time be assigned to it by the Executive Council.

6. The Lecture Committee shall consist of three or more members. It shall be its duty, subject to the control of the Executive Coun-

It shall determine dates of exhibitions and places where they shall be held, which, however, shall be subject to the approval of the Executive Council. It may contract for printing and advertising in connection with the shows, the cost of which shall not exceed an amount appropriated for such purposes by the Executive Council. It shall appoint all judges, arrange for their reception and entertainment, and perform such other similar duties as may from time to time be assigned to it by the Executive Council.

9. The Committee on Garden Awards shall consist of from five to seven members. It shall be the duty of this Committee to visit outstanding gardens for the purpose of making such recommendations for awards as may seem to them desirable, and to perform such other similar duties as may from time to time be assigned to it by the Executive Council.

10. The Editorial Committee shall consist of from three to five members. It shall be the duty of this Committee to prepare and edit publications of the Society, either of scientific or practical nature or descriptive of the Society's activities, including the Year Book and special pamphlets, and articles for HORTICULTURE or other publications, and to perform such other similar duties as may from time to time be assigned to it by the Executive Council.

11. The Extension Committee shall consist of seven members, with power to add to its number from time to time as may seem necessary. It shall be the duty of this Committee, working through the office of the Association and through an Extension Secretary if such be employed, to make known the advantages of membership in the Society in Pennsylvania and neighboring states. It shall present to such persons the advantages of membership not only locally but generally, in order that there shall be more gardens and better gardens in the territory reached by the Society. The Committee shall be empowered to stimulate local organizations in various communities supplementary to the main purpose of the Association, and always dealing with the advantages presented by the parent organization.

2. These By-Laws may be amended by the Executive Council at any regular or special meeting by the affirmative vote of a majority of the entire membership of the Executive Council, provided a notice of the proposed amendments has been sent to the members of the Executive Council with the notice for the meeting, said notice to contain a request that members who do not expect to be present shall send their votes by mail; or they may be amended if the amendment is proposed by at least ten members of the Society, in writing, addressed to the Secretary, and included in the notice for an annual or special meeting of the Society, and approved at such meeting by a majority vote of the members present.
